Legacy

JT was a remarkable and talented young man who faced great adversity with remarkable courage and with determination to do all he could to help others, to improve this College, and to make the world a better place. He lived each day intensely, and with an incredible drive to accomplish his goals, whether he was addressing the administration as an officer of the SGA to encourage the recruitment of minority faculty, asking the Board of Visitors and Governors to consider an improved security system, or rounding up fellow students to help with a community outreach project. Rarely has a student produced such a dramatic and beneficial transformation at a college as JT did for Washington College. With his example of courage, friendship, enthusiasm, and selflessness, he stands as a model campus leader that I hope we and all future generations of the Washington College family will emulate.

- President John Toll

In memory of
Jonathan Adams Taylor Jr.
May, 21 1970 to January 8, 1998

In memory of
Jeffrey Thomas Baynes
February 14, 1978 to April 5, 1998

Jeff was a contagion we all caught. Once near him, we succumbed to his infectious laughter.

And once he got to us, he was there to stay.

Legacy

Student Life

Thrown into the confusing world of college, students try to find a balance between their work and socializing. As they gain experience through the years this becomes second nature. From completing assignments, attending various meetings, to spending time with close friends, one is constantly on the go.

Legacy Weekend Renewed

What has been named Legacy Weekend, in past years had been a standard event at WAC. The weekend of October 17th marked the return of this Weekend to campus.

Activities ranged from a parade in the morning, to various athletic events in the afternoon, to the culmination of Legacy weekend with a dance in the student center Saturday night.

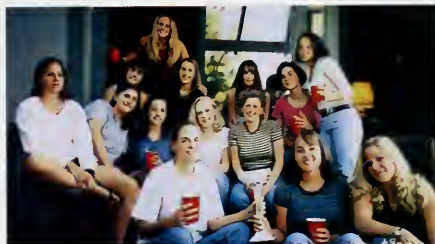

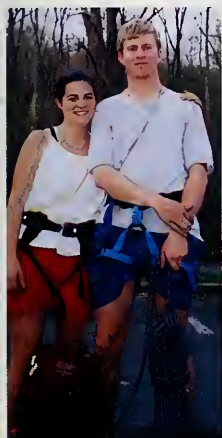

Between a parade, dancing, sports, Jerry juggling and the Greeks, Legacy Day was full of activity. Even QVC made an appearance!

Murder on the...

Birthday Ball 1998...

This year's celebration was once again an event to remember. The theme, "Murder on the Orient Express" added a more interactive feel to the festivities. Music, which was once again provided by the band Amaretto, was set against a backdrop of murder investigation. Various TV and Film personalities made appearances as the night went on. Even funny man Jerry Higginson was questioned on stage. This years Ball was organized by Travis Allen, who did a wonderful job.

An important college tip:

HOW TO HANDLE STRESS!!

- Thumb thru National Geographic and draw underwear on the natives
- Find out what a frog in the blender really looks like
- Use your Mastercard to pay your Visa bill
- Pop some popcorn without putting the lid on
- Pretend it's May Day

- Call random rooms and pretend your name is George
- Jam tiny marshmallows up your nose and try to sneeze them out

Legacy

Activities and Clubs

The diverse nature of the students here at WAC contribute a wide range of intrests to the college community. From service organizations, to political clubs, to academic groups and clubs just for fun, there is something for everyone to be involved with.

Women's Club Soccer

Women's soccer club is an organization for women who love soccer and who want to continue with it on a competitive, inter-collegiate level. Though it isn't Varsity, practices are organized and serious and attendance is stressed in order to compete. This year the team is working to have a solid foundation in preparation for its Varsity status next fall.

Legacy

Residential Life

Living amongst friends, and acquaintances can be quite an experience. From adjusting to your new roommate, to hanging out in your room on weekends, life at college always has something waiting to happen.

In addition, the completion of the new residence on campus, Harford Hall, was a welcomed change to Washington College. Much needed room was added to campus to compensate for the growing numbers of the freshman classes.

Legacy

Seniors

As this year's senior class leaves these grounds, they will be carrying all of the experiences, friendships, and information they have gathered over the years to their next destination. Whether this be graduate school, or a new career,

Washington College has changed these once timid freshman into individuals destined for a promising future.

I would like to thank my parents for sticking by every decision that I made these past four years and for believing in me. Thank you grandmom for always being so giving.

To Mike- you've always believed in me; thank you for being my best friend through these years- you've made it complete. To Diane- what can I say but thanks for always being there, you are a true friend forever. To Kristie- I've missed you but I know you'll always be there. To Michele- No matter how far away you are, you are my friend for life. Thank you. To my Harford girls- I will never forget any you. Thank you for everything. To Debbie- Our times and talks are unforgettable. I'll always treasure our friendship. To Heather- You've made me see the lighter side of life, never stop being who you are. To Stacy- I admire your strength and strong will, thank you for giving me some of that confidence. To Christyl- You've always seen the good in me, thank you for making me feel special. To Greason- I'll never forget you. To the rest of my Alpha Chi sisters- Thanks for the great times, I love you all! And to everyone else who has been there along the way, thank you. Take care everyone, I will miss you.

My adventure at Washington College is over. I have learned a lot and had lots of fun. I thank my Family, Brothers and Friends for this. I feel as if I am at the top of the world. I know that there is a lot of things left for me to do. But when I look back and see what I have done I will always smile.

Tom, Dad, Jason, Jeff, and Stephen: I thank you for your support and good advice. I could have never crossed this bridge without you. I will always love you.

Molli, You have added beautiful colors to my life. You make me so happy. You are my love.

Brothers, We have experienced so many things together. I thank you for nice days on the porch of Middle, wild nights, late night fishing, Papa's speeches, borrowed cars, sailing the river, the chicken flip, late night runs to Dennys and Dutch Family, and many things that will never be written. I wish you guys the best. Remember, it is not the size of your chapter that counts; it is how much you do for yourselves and everyone else. I will never be far away.

A true friend is always loyal, and a brother is born to help in time of need"
 -Proverbs 17:13

Over the past four years, the most important things I have learned is that change is inevitable, yet essential; time is our best friend, yet our worst enemy; growth goes unnoticed, yet is so apparent; and friendships are priceless. Beth, Bridget, Shannon, Emily, Allison, and Leslie thank you for four years of friendship that will last forever. Thank you for listening, laughing, and crying with me, you guys will always be in my heart. Thanks to ZTA for the sisterhood and the endless memories. Andrea, you are a great lil'. Nell, I'm so glad at I got to know you.

Mom and Dad, thank you for encouraging me to do my absolute best, supporting my every decision, and giving me the confidence and the strength to stand on my own. I hope that one day, I can be as strong as you. Joe, your love has carried me. Thank you for your patience and understanding. You are my best friend and for that I love you!

The path to a dream is paved with sacrifice and lined with determination.
It is traveled by belief and courage, persistence

It is conquered with a willingness to face challenges and take chances, to fail and try again and again.
Along the way, you may have to confront

Thank you to my entire family. Especially Ma (I couldn't have done it without your emotional support) and Dad - I hope that after four years of supporting me, you can see (wherever you are) that I've turned out ok.

To all my friends, thank you for the memories. They will be the things I cherish most. Special thanks to Sal, PT, and Phyllis. You've all been there the entire way with me. I know it wasn't easy. I couldn't have done it without you.

THE VOICE

There is a voice inside of you
That whispers all day long,
"I feel that this is right for me,
I know that this is wrong."

No teacher, priest, parent, friend
Or wise man can decide

What's right for you - just listen to

That voice that speaks inside.

There is no way that I could ever do that. You're everything to me. I can't explain what I feel for you. Just know that I love you and nothing will ever change that. We've been through so much together, but I wouldn't change any of it because we've only become closer and closer. You know when you've met someone that right for you, and in my heart, I know that you're right for me. I could go on and on about how much I love you. You're incredible in every way. Theme of a Cruel Angel

Like a cruel angel...
young boy, become a legend.
Even though the blue wind knocked at the door of your heart...
...you, kept looking and smiling only at me.
Lost while searching for something soft...
...your honest eyes show that you haven't realized your fate.
But someday, you'll recognize that on your back...you have the wings to fly to the distant future.
A cruel revelation from the angels will fly out from a window soon.
When you deny your memory with your spurning and burning pathos...
Shine and hold up the sky.
Young boy, become a legend.

It doesn't happen all at once," said the Skin Horse. "You become. It takes a long time. That's why it doesn't often happen to people who break easily, or have sharp edges, or who have to be carefully kept. Generally, by the time you are Real, most of your hair has been shaved off, and your eyes drop out and you get loose in the joints and very shabby. But those things don't matter at all..."

On the edge of my porch in a warm evening night,
Rolling the bone for the dog. I see two passing lights.
Well, I wonder where that driver's bound,
Is there someone, somewhere, some way I feel that I've not found.
A touch of smoke ain't what it seems
But dust and sunshine also make my eyes look mean.
Well, there's a brown cat sleeping at this day's show

Players enjoy season despite diasppointment

That is an understatement about our 1997 volleyball season (team quote). Although our record did not reflect our talent, hardwork, and potential, our smiles and laughter displayed the close friendships that we formed on and off of the court.

When the season finally got into full swing, we could not wait for roadtrips. Who could forget the walkie-talkie chats? They were almost as good as the TMI talks on Bev's van. Then there were the dinners (or lack there of, when Rocket threw hers out of the van).

But when the van finally arrived, we laced up our shoes and put on our lovely uniforms. We stared across the net (while some people jumped under it--Leah), ready to give it our all. Whether Snyder was trying to chop down a tree, or HP trying to knock a beanie off someone's head, or Bean trying to six-pack the other team, we were always out for blood.

We improved throughout the season, both individually and as a team. We developed, not only, our skills, but also our mental game, physical condition, and unity with the help of our coaches. That was proven as we won a majority of our final games. Full of ups, down, frustrations, and excitements, the season in general was terrific. But most of all it was a season of close friendships. With a majority of us returning next year, our record and skills can only improve. So until next August rolls around, think about this question: was our assistant coach really JFK Jr?

Strong End of Season

Leads to 5th place Finish

In William Outten's first year as head coach, the 1997 Shoremen finished the season with a 4-5 record in the competitive Centennial Conference. Despite a rocky start, the Shoremen won their final two games, both conference matchups, which earned them fifth place in the conference.

Five Shoremen were named to the Centennial Conference Honor Roll this season: junior Jon Gerbasi, junior Tim Ringgold, junior and team captain Jon Ferro, sophomore Brent Francoline, and freshman Justin Daniel.

Junior goalkeeper Travis Beauchamp, the team's Most Valuable Player, was named Conference Player of the Week and named a First Team Centennial All-Star.

Ferro and Gerbasi were named to the Centennial Conference All-Star Second Team.

The Shoremen will lose three seniors, Greg Metrinko, Frank Batella and Shayne Bates. With a strong nucleus of returnees, the Shoremen are in a great position to dominate the conference next year.

Strong All Around...

Second Consecutive NCAA Appearance

The Sho'women field hockey players turned to the NCAA playoffs this season after nabbing a tri-championship conference title in the Centennial Conference. Despite the 1-0 double overtime win by host Salisbury State in the first round of the playoffs, the Shorewomen had a stellar season and can be proud of their 16-3 record, 8-1 in the conference. As a team, the Sho'women broke the record for wins in a season, assists in a season, and points in a season, and had winning streaks of five and nine games this year. They were cool under pressure as well, as three of their four victories were in overtime. They held the distinction of breaking the win streak of Swarthmore on October 7, who had not lost a match to Washington since 1991.

The 1997 team had only one senior, midfielder Sarah Sobon, who was named Second Team Division III All-American by the National Field Hockey Coaches Association. Along with junior midfielder Mandy Paré, Sobon was named to the First Team Regional All-American; sophomore defender Quincy Miles was named to the Second Team. Six Sho'women were named Conference All-Stars: Sarah Sobon, Mandy Paré, Miles, and sophomore forward Christyl Arrabal on First Team, along with junior defenseman Veronica Ganzman and freshman goalkeeper Toby Wilmoth on the Second Team.

With Sobon as the only senior, Sho'women field hockey program a core of ten starters and many reserves returning in 1998, and the program has many more successes to look forward to in the future.

Best Record For Program

Includes a 6 Game Winning Streak

The Washington College women's basketball team achieved the best record in the five-year history of the program this season, finishing 18-8 overall. With a 8-7 record in the Centennial Conference, Washington finished third in the conference East Division, and was one win away from qualifying for the Centennial playoffs. At one point during the course of the season, Washington enjoyed a six-game winning streak, which began with a championship in the Widener University Aimee Willard Memorial Tournament before Christmas. The Shorewomen bounced back from a three-game losing streak mid-season to win seven out of their last ten contests. In a 73-11 victory at home over Villa Julie Feb. 5, the point totals, in the first half (6 points), second half (5 points), and overall, for the guests were the lowest ever given up by a Shorewomen team. Previously, the record-lows were 8-6-14, against Trinity in 1993. In a 70-60 victory at St. Mary's Nov. 25, Washington's 52 points in the second half was a record. The Shorewomen had scored 45 points in the second half of a game against Western Maryland in 1995.

Halloween Madness...

to Second Consecutive Conference Playoffs

The Washington College men's basketball team finished the 1997-98 season 14-11 overall, and 7-6 in the Centennial Conference. For the second consecutive year, the Shoremen qualified for the post-season conference playoffs. Despite suffering a heart-breaking 60-59 loss to NCAA Division III Tournament-bound Johns Hopkins Feb. 25, it was a good season overall for Washington. The Shoremen enjoyed a five-game winning streak from January 7-17, and won eight out of nine contests from December 9 to January 17. They broke out of a six-game losing streak to win their last four regular season games, propelling them into the playoffs. Washington was ranked fifth in the NCAA Division III Middle Atlantic Region January 20. The Shoremen reached the century mark twice this season, both times on the road, defeating Gallaudet, 101-71, Jan. 7, and Villa Julie, 100-67, Jan. 13. Senior co-captain and forward Bradd Burkhart, in his first year as a full-time starter, became Washington's 27th career 1000-point scorer in a game at Ursinus College Jan. 28. Senior guard and co-captain Ben Harris scored in double digits in 17 games, leading the team in scoring nine times. He had one double-double, in points and assists. He had a season and game-high 25 points, plus five rebounds and three assists, in a 87-79 loss at Division I University of Maryland-Baltimore County Dec. 3.

BOOT & RALLY

WC women capture an 11-2 record!

led by captains Danielle Sullivan and Meredith Bathgate WC women had a great dual meet season losing only to Gettysburg and Swarthmore. Danielle Sullivan made WC history, not only will she graduate leaving her mark on 3 individual school records (100, 500, 1650 free), 3 individual conference records (100, 1000, 1650) and 5 school relay records, but she is WC's first 2 time in one year All-

American swimmer. Danielle qualified for her first NCAA national competition and swam her lifetime best swims in the 500 and 1650 free for All-American rankings. Captain Meredith Bathgate will also be greatly missed winning the silver medal this year in the 200 IM swimming a school record 2:14, a record she has now held all 4 of her years at WC. This year Danielle and Meredith teamed with freshman Leah Golshani and Lanae Arnold to set 2 new school records and win medals in both the 200 & 400 free relay. Megan Bradley finished her swimming career helping win a medal in the 400 medley relay swimming the fly leg. Darlene Schaub was not able to swim this year due to injury, but was a past school record holder in the 100 & 200 breast and was a big help on the sideline this year.

Mens' team goes to division 1 championship

Captain Robert Cronin will be hard to replace in the back events. He won a silver in the 200 back with a lifetime best swim and the bronze in the 100 back. But the most exciting part was being a part of the 200 & 400 medley relay teams of Robert Savidge, Angel Prado, Ryan Staszak and Scott Smizik that set new school and conference records to win the gold medal at championships. Drew Fritch will also leave a whole in the free events. He is on WC's all-time top 5: 100, 200, and 500 free list. He was a member of the medal winning 400 free relay this year and on the 800 free relay school record. The men had an exciting season with a 7-4 record only losing a couple medals due to the lack of numbers. Jr. Angel Prado set new school records in the 200 IM and 200 fly and freshman Robert Savidge set new school records in the 100 & 200 breast. The mens team was named Academic All-American in the fall 1997 season.

Get Jiggy With It..

As Women's lacrosse improves

The Washington College women's Lacrosse team ended the '88 season with a win against Mawr 13-6. The Shorewomen have an overall record of 4-13 and a Centennial Conference standing of 2-10. Capturing victories from Muhlenberg, Messiah College, and other competitive teams, Washington College women's lacrosse showed determination and ability in breaking records such as draw controls and assists in a game.

Head coach, Eleanor Shriver and assistant Liz Garrett focused on improvement and heart throughout the pre-season and inspired the team to reach higher than previous years.

Although determination and courage does not appear in the statistics, it is obvious by watching that the skill level and the level of play has increased significantly.

When asked to sum up the season, the Shorewomen could only respond with a series of "famous quotes" that echoed out over Shriver field and elsewhere... "The best thing we have to hold onto in life is each other."--"Everyone out of the pool!"--"Woo-hoo!"--"That's a negative, ghost rider."--"See how low we are right now? (as team lays on the ground), "This is as low as we're ever going to get."--"On the end line!"--"Who forgot the med kit?"--"Mollie, wash those gloves!"--"CREASE, REF!"--"I want to support each and everyone of you today."--"Ball down, I got ball!"--"Body positioning!"--"PMA."--"Giirl!"--"Get jiggy with it!"

WAC beats Nazareth 16-10 to win division III

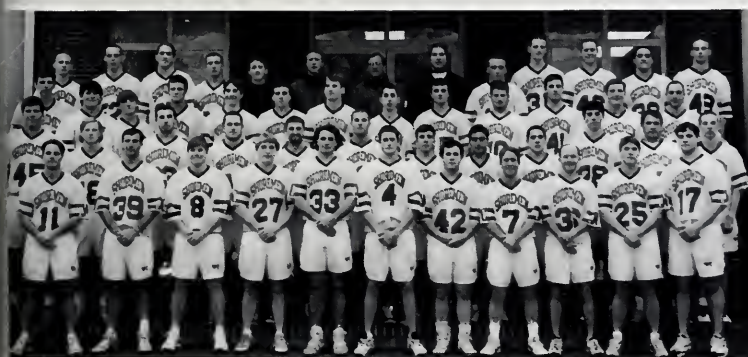

For the third consecutive year, the men's lacrosse team qualified for the NCAA Division III championship. The regular season was rocky at times, with close losses to teams such as Salisbury State, Roanoke, and Nazareth. At the end of the season, the team had a record of 10-4 overall, and 5-1 in the Centennial Conference, which positioned the team in second place. The team went into the post season with a first round game against Roanoke College. Players Tyler Gilbert and Jamie Pollock, both midfielders contributed to the Shoremens win of 11-7. Gilbert had two goals and one assist, and Pollock scored one goal and had two assists. With this win WAC moved on to the quarter final game against Hampden-Sydney. Senior attackman Andy Lopatin scored a game-high four goals, and junior midfielder Justin McCarthy added two goals and four assists, which lead to Washington's eventual 13-9 win, and another trip to the championship game. This year the game was held at Rutgers University Stadium, and played against rival Nazareth College. WAC controlled the pace and score of the game until the third quarter when Nazareth gained a 9-8 lead. Following an 8-1 run by Washington the game was safely put away. The final score, Washington Nazareth 10. Senior Andy Lopatin had a game-high four goals and one assist, including the game opener. The team loses 10 members this year, but returns many core players who will contend the title again next season.

Women's Softball...

...faces many challenges this year.

The smell of the grass, the feel of the dirt, the crack of the bat, and the raspberries from sliding into home! What a game! The 1998 Shorewomen softball team had tough shoes to fill following last year's successful season. The loss of three graduates was more than replenished by nine talented freshmen.

Highlights of the year included defeating the 7th ranked team in the nation, Salisbury State. Unfortunately the team fell on the losing end of several close games. The team finished fifth in the conference with a record of 15-19 overall, 6-10 in the Centennial Conference.

Karen Sieger, a Tasmanian Devil, who's spunk and efforts were outstanding, always amazed the team when her rolls and dives came a'landin! Grass fights, water battles, and random facts were only a few of her major talents, but this Shorewoman knows what to do and her ability is oh so automatic. This senior will surely be missed.

Shannon Rump - All she wanted to do was a little zoom and strike the batter out! This Rump Shaker did that in a four-year bout! One of two only seniors on this youngster team, she aimed for goals, and she set them high and still managed to keep the team on a roll. Her homer in Florida lifted up her spirits, but kept this Captain striving, and in the end her smile was still gleaming and a shining.

Baseball Team excells Team has new head coach...

Entering the 1998 baseball season with a new coach, there could have been doubts as to how the team would function. However, this coach was not really "new." Long-time assistant Al Streehman had taken over as the Shoremen skipper, and his experience and knowledge of the game, along with a group of very talented returnees, made it for a very exciting campaign.

The Shoremen finished 18-15 overall, and 10-8 in the Centennial Conference for a fourth-place finish.

Washington has placed in the top four of the Centennial in four out of the past five years.

During the course of the season, the Shoremen enjoyed an eight-game winning streak, sweeping doubleheaders against Lincoln, Neumann, and Muhlenberg, and also defeating Swarthmore twice. Washington won three out of the last four games of the season.

Several players took turns leading the Shoremen offensively this season. Junior outfielder/first baseman Dan Gerbasi (Edgewater, MD) came out on top in the end with a .319 average (38-for-119) including two doubles, two triples, three home runs, and 18 runs batted in. Gerbasi also had 11 stolen bases.

Senior first baseman/shortstop Sean Tyszko (Baltimore, MD) was 27-for-89 (.303), with six doubles, two triples, and 20 RBIs. Tyszko also played nearly flawlessly in the field, with only two errors in 226 defensive plays for a .991 fielding percentage.

he Washington College men's Rowing team had a season to remember with numbers of first place finishes despite a great deal of adversity. The team defeated a host of division-I and division-II schools along the way. The most competitive race occurred at the Murphy Cup where the team bowed against division-I schools such as Temple, Pitt,

NYU, and Rochester. The team finished a strong third losing only to Temple, a long-time powerhouse and Bucknell. The team wishes to especially thank Ray Herndon for his dedication and encouragement to our past two seasons. We wish him the best of luck in his future! WAC Tennis Teams Enjoy Productive Year

This year, Matt Rose counted on the current assistant coach, Michael Kember for his work with the Washington College Tennis Teams.

The men's tennis team faced the hardest games at the beginning of the 97 season. After those tough matches, they recovered and finished the season with a positive record. However, it wasn't enough to get to the Nationals. Only junior Tomás Lejarraga qualified, after having one of the best records on the team. He also made it to the semifinals in the Rolex Championship. The spring season for the men was better. Junior Gustavo Vincentini, who didn't take part in the fall season since he was studying abroad, got his first Centennial Conference title. This year the team produced three All Americans.

The women's team this year, consisted mostly of freshmen, which made the beginning of the season a lot harder. However, the team improved with time and senior Anabel Flores qualified for the Centennial Conference semifinals. She also was awarded the title of Most Valuable Player. Freshman, Cynthia Briggs was named Most Improved Player for this academic year at WAC.

Theta Chi

Upon the evening of Washington College's Fall Convocation, Theta Chi Fraternity was honored with the prestigious Loving Cup for the fifth consecutive year. This academic award is given annually to the fraternity and sorority having the highest grade point average for the preceding academic year. Our Fraternity attained this award with a grade point average of 2.961. Individually, members of our chapter have achieved great feats. In the 1997 academic year seven members of our chapter earned a 4.0 grade point average, and nineteen brothers achieved Dean's List status. Brother Todd Barto was published in the Washington College Review based on his summer research at the Space Telescope Science Institute on the topic of "Nearby Stars." Brothers Mike Hinkle and Sean Tyszko are captains of the Washington College Varsity Baseball Team, while maintaining high GPA's. Brother Tyszko's thesis on Leprosy has been accepted, he is a member of the Beta Beta Beta, and is also a member of Omicron Delta Kappa. Mike Hinkle will attend Law school next fall. Brother Tyler Benedum is also a captain of a varsity team while continuing to strive in academics. He is captain of the Crew Team, and received the Key Man Student Athlete Award at the National Convention during the summer. Brothers Ben Harris and Bradd Burkhart are captains of the Varsity basketball Team while maintaining high GPA's as well. Bradd has been accepted to medical school, and is a member of Beta Beta Beta. Alex Phillips is a member of the Society of Junior Fellows, Psi Chi, Omicron Delta Kappa, and Sigma Delta Pi. Brother Dermot Quigley is also a member of Psi Chi.

On the National level three of our members, Bradd Burkhart, Tyler Benedum, and Fredl Kanther, attended the Theta Chi Fraternity National Convention in Nashville, Tennessee. Our chapter was presented with a Scholarship Award for Academic Excellence at this conference which took place over the summer of 1997, among several other awards.

Kappa Alpha Order

The 1997-1998 school year has had both its ups and downs for Kappa Alpha. The year started last summer, when JT Taylor attended Kappa Alpha's NLI convention in Atlanta, Georgia, from where he brought back some good ideas for the future of the chapter. The fall semester witnessed us raising over $200 for our national philanthropy, MDA. We began a leaf raking program in the local area. We also helped put on the Haunted Crack House and ran the concession table. We put on a very successful Christmas Party with the Zetas for local children. Athletically, we had a US Rowing Academic All American and in sailing we had two members on the inaugural varsity team, including the Captain and MVP. Unfortunately, over the winter break, we lost our dear brother Jon 'JT' Taylor to an extended battle with cancer. He will be missed dearly by all of us. After this tragic downturn, we attempted to rebound for the spring semester. It started with a very successful Birthday Ball put on by our very own Travis Allen. Eric Johnson was once again elected as SGA President. We had brothers volunteer at the Humane Society, the Piper House, and with the Best Buddies program. We also had a great Beach Bash once again. We congratulate our graduating seniors, Tim Tawney, Bryan Relyea, Don Kissling, and ?Tim "Trailer" Croisette? and look forward to another great year.

Phi Delta Theta

Phi Delta Theta has experienced national and local success this past year. In the fall we hosted our annual crab feast at the boathouse pavilion, which attracted alumni from around the region. We earned the General Headquarters Trophy from our national and this year we are striving for the most prestigious award from our national. In athletics, our tradition of outstanding lacrosse players continues with 2 all-americans and other standouts on the team. The spring semester brings celebration of the founding of our fraternity. We look forward to meeting famous Phi, Story Musgrave. In addition, we plan to sponsor our second reception for patrons of the Concert Series. The success of Maryland Gamma plans to continue a great tradition at Washington College, and we wish our graduating seniors the best of luck in the future.

Alpha Chi Omega

This year Alpha Chi Omega, Beta Pi chapter, celebrated its sixth anniversary here at Washington College. To celebrate this event, a banquet was held which honored all the Alpha Chi's who have gone to Washington College. In November, there was the annual Casino Night which is a fund raiser for Women of Domestic Violence, our National philanthropy. Over 500 hundred dollars was raised. Besides Casino Night, the sisters of Alpha Chi do many other community service acts. Each year, sisters participate in the MS walk as well as Race for the Cure and Relay for Life. In the fall, sisters Erica Roath and Beth Coveney went to TEAM (Together Everyone Accomplishes More) weekend which was a leadership conference held in Pennsylvania. This year Alpha Chi Omega won Greek Games and was honored by having senior Barbaranne Mocella named Greek Goddess. Rush went very well; the theme was Alpha Chi Lost in TV Land which proved to be successful because we initiated 14 new members this spring. The sisters will end the year by having our traditional Dinner Dance where we take a cruise around Annapolis. At this time, Alpha Chi Omega would like to say goodbye to all the seniors- we will miss you dearly.

Zeta Tau Alpha

The sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha had another set of particularly busy and eventful semesters during the 97-98 school year. President Beth Doppler and membership chair Sarah Jarrell represented the sorority at the National Conference where the Gamma Beta chapter received a "Crown Chapter" and "Financial Excellence" award. The Zeta's also received the "Loving Cup" for another year, which is given to the sorority with highest GPA on campus. The sisters did several community projects and fundraisers for their national philanthropy- The Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation. They sponsored the Lee Denim Day and sold pink ribbon pins, took part in the local "Relay For Life" event, hosted a Christmas party for local children with the brothers of the Kappa Alpha Order, and held their annual Easter Egg hunt. One of the most exciting happenings for the sorority was the succesful rush periods of both the Fall and Spring semesters. The sisters celebrated the year with a Mardi Gras formal in the fall and the annual White Violet formal in the spring.

Alpha Omicron Pi

This year Alpha Omicron Pi has reached new heights. Each year we help raise money for our philanthropy, arthritis, and this past year we, along with sister chapters, reached our goal of 1 million dollars. The sisters of Alpha Omicron Pi are active volunteers in the community. This past Christmas we adopted a needy family and bought Christmas presents for each family member. It was a rewarding experience for all involved. We also volunteered our services at the local hospital's Christmas Fair in order to raise money for the hospital. Throughout the year our chapter donated items needed by the local animal shelter as well. The sisters of Alpha Omicron Pi are also involved in campus activities and programs. With the new spring pledge class of '98, we now have over 20 sisters who play varsity sports. Many AOPi's are student athlete mentors, and/or belong to other organizations here on campus. This year we placed first in the banner contest at Greek Games for the third year in a row. We miss our sisters Heather Cranmer and Joan Tylecki who are studying abroad this semester. We are also going to miss our graduating seniors, and we wish them the very best of luck in the future. Alpha Omicron Pi has had a great year, and we are looking forward to many more to come.

Closing

The weeks between orientation and the end of the school year fly. With all of the school work, stresses, relationships, activities, and sports, who has time to think, let alone sit down? Suddenly we are moving out of our dorms, perhaps for the last time. Summer vacation appears and we are left to ponder where the time went.

Washington College Celebrates 216th Commencement

On a sunny Sunday, May 17th, 1998, Washington College awarded 200 undergraduate degrees and 31 graduate degrees. The senior class was represented by their class speaker, Edward James Geisweidt. As he spoke to his classmates they were reminded of the things that made their four years at Washington College unique, many things that no group before them or after them will experience.

Following Ed's remarks was the presentation of the Alumni Citations. Glen E. Beebe, President, Washington College Alumni Association, who graduated in 1981, presented these awards. This years recipients were John Conkling '65, executive director of the American Pyrotechnical Association, and Agnes Zaffere Orban '41, a secondary school teacher. For the evening prior to the ceremonies, Mr. Conkling designed and executed a grand and thrilling fireworks display on Kibler Field.

After the Alumni Citations was the presentation of the honorary Doctor of Letters Degree. The recipient for this year was Mr. Benjamin C. Bradlee. As a renowned journalist, Mr. Bradlee has held positions with some of the countries most influential publications, these include The Washington Post and Newsweek. Currently he is vice-president at large for The Washington Post. Mr. Bradlee honored the class of 1998 with his Keynote address. Through his array of experiences he inspired and challenged the class to aspire to greatness now and in the future as he has. The college was fortunate enough to have an individual with Mr. Bradlee's experience and background at this years graduation ceremony.

Following the Commencement Address, the Candidates for Degrees were presented by Joachim J. Scholz, Provost and Dean of the College. The soon to be graduates were then awarded their diplomas from Dr. John S. Toll. After the 231 degrees were distributed, the presentations of the Faculty and Student Awards began. The recipients of these awards can be found on the following 3 pages.

As their last action as students of Washington College some of the graduates chose to honor one of Washington's lost students, JT Taylor. These students taped his initials to the tops of their graduation caps which they proudly displayed during the ceremony. This was one of the many ways that JT will be remembered among this graduating class and throughout Washington College for years to come.

WOW!!!! Can you believe we ever finished it Dan? Thank you for getting me through this. And a giant THANK YOU for not killing me when I bit your head off.

Dawn... thank you for doing so much to keep me sane first semester and taking so many photos last minute. You are wonderful!

Mark... I can't believe you learned to develop photos so quickly. You did a great job and we will miss you so much when you leave here. What am I supposed to do next year???

Mommy... I know Yearbook isn't my first priority, now do you understand where all of my work went? And thank you so much to Diane Larimore for so much help WITH EVERYTHING this year. My savior!

Last thing.. Dan...

Two more years...

Just wait.. it will be fun!
promise!!! (ILY!!!)

WINTER -Tori Amos

snow can wait I forgot my mittens wipe my nose get my new boots on I get a little warm in my heart when I think of winter I put my hand in my father's glove I run off where the DRIFTS GET DEEPER sleeping beauty trips me with a frown I hear a voice "you must learn to stand up for yourself cause I can't always be around" he says when you gonna make up your mind when you gonna love you as much as I do when you gonna make up your mind cause things are gonna CHANGE so fast all the white horses are still in bed I tell you that I'll always want you near you say that things change my dear boys get discovered as winter MELTS flowers competing for the sun years go by and I'm here still waiting withering where some snowman was mirror mirror where's the crystal palace but I only can see myself SKATING around the truth who I am but I know dad the ice is getting thin when you gonna make up your mind when you gonna love you as much as I do when you gonna make up your mind cause things are gonna CHANGE so fast all the white horses are still in bed
I tell you that I'll always want you near you say that things change my dear hair is grey and the fires are burning so many dreams on the shelf you say I wanted you to be PROUD of me I always wanted that myself he says when you gonna make up your mind when you gonna love you as much as I do when you gonna make up your mind cause things are gonna change so fast at the WHITE HORSES have gone ahead and I tell you that I'll always want you near you say that things change my dear...

IT'S DONE...but I won't believe it until I see the book in print!

Tell me again why I agreed to edit the yearbook with you?!?! :-)

Thanks again to those already mentioned who helped Heidi and I with everything...

Heidi - Thank you so much for everything this year. (I L.Y.)

Mark - Get back here and crop these pictures!

The Living Dream

“George Washington’s Address to the Senior Class”

What mirth walks proud these greens this day,
That have been born out of those years that seemed
At times too quick to bid adieu, and at others, faster
Than anything one could caress to make one’s own.

The dawning skies herald the end of a season,
Yet for sixteen passing seasons the seeds have grown
Into those that now stand proud and alive;
And yet it is the beginning, nay a cycle that never ceases,
A perfection, like the incessant ripples of frosted waves
Sliding softly on the soaking sands,
Each leaving behind their own sculptor for the next
To behold, marvel and venerate.

I will hear no more the laughter, lucid singular ruptures
That resurrected my being every luscious autumn;
None among them will perhaps ever shed a silent tear
In the security of the reticent Cimmerian by my feet,
Nor lose their souls to ecstasy at that first kiss
That quivered and unclosed their supple petals,
And like buds they burst forth to flamboyant blossoms
Breathing in deep the dew-washed freedom of life!

There are those who will stride by me no more
In cyclonic dashes to rooms of awaiting intellects,
Nor speak to me when their only friend is solitude
And the only eyes they trust are mine;
I will be embraced no more by some, who
With every screaming call came rushing to my feet
Whether the stars twinkled or others burned,
And inquired in intense animation after my well-being.

Yet, their voices will resonate like melodious echoes,
And sport by my aging ears as winds whisper
Their ambrosial memories, and of those gone too soon,
And I shall remember amidst the gleaming snow
And the golden summers their lives, ah! far beyond Mere unadorned existence. Such joyous celebrations
Will awaken me and prepare me with bliss for those Who will advent, endeavor and recreate their nobility
Among the nestled elms of this living dream.
